Solicitor of Patents.

Buring the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. 14. Eddy, Esq., of Bostion did businessat the Patent Office, as Solicitor of procuring Patents. There were few, it may, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; pand there were more who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillad Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of untiting their applications in a form to secure for them an enry and favorable consideration at the United Office. SATURDAY HORNING, DEC. 29, 1855

In almost all worldly affairs it is expected that fashion will allure men and women, conform things and shape circumstances, so that it will be the chief idel but it is not to be supposed that in spiritual offairs and the management of a Church where all things should he done decently and in order, and with an eye only to the apread of the gospel, the banishment of sinand the increase of the Church, that Fashion should have its away. We are, how ever, sometimes almost inclined to the opinion that Fashion has nearly as much sway in the Church and in the religious matters, in these days, as it has in the most worldly and profane transactions. In calling a minister to a Pastoral charge we sometimes find cases where a portion of the Church or congregation say, oh, we like the man very much; he is talented and learned, and a pious, devoted man, but then he speaks so plainly, and right at sinners, pointing out all their errors, to the rich and the poor alike without any distinction. that we are afraid he will not be popular. with the wealthy and fashionable portion of our congregation, particularly those who attend our church in summer.

This, for example, is the only objection to the minister. We contend that such ministers, and such only, are fit to preach the gospel; they are the only true and faithful fauccessors of the Saviour, who proclaimed the doctrines of salvation to all men, the rich and the poor, the high and the low. He has no regard for wealth or earthly distinction; he sought to save the souls of men, regardless of their worldly condition. He selected his apostlos from the humblest of those in Judea, and he proclaimed the sternal truths of his mission to the aristocracy of Jerusulem a well as to the humblest laborers of that and all other places where he sojourned. It the last fearful struggles of the Cruc fixion, none of the select, according to fashion, were among his sympathizers, and none of this class shed tears when the last great agony was over, and a work was redeemed from sin. We have no respect-for a man who dares not proclain the doctrines of the Hible, positively, bold ly and carnestly to all classes and condtions of men, without the slightest distinction. If excessively fashionable peopl could listen to the plain, practical preach ing of a zealous minister, let them go t deal out to them that kind of milk and we ter delusion which will satisfy their reli gious yearnings. We once heard quite a eminent divine, especially among the art stocracy, preach a sermon at the Zio Church, in the atternoon, when few, any, of the very fashionable summer visi ors were present; he denounced th fashionable follies of the day in severe an withering terms; he was afterwards aske. why he did not preach that sermon if Trivity Church, in the morning,-he replied that it would not do, for it would displease a great many of the summer worshi; pers there. Worshippers indeed !-There is no fashion in the doctrines of the bible, there is no display, no vanity, n empty delusion in the great atonement -All men are sinners, and Christ died t. save them, and through his redemptio alone, with absolute penitruce on their part can any be ultimately saved.

Those who have swayed Senates t their eloquence, ruled antions by their wie dom, and conquered on the battle-field !their provess, will occupy the same level position, on the day of Judgment, with this humblest being who has passed his whol$ life in human bondage.

And there will be no precedence of power, In waking at the coming trump of God; But in the temper of the lavisible mind The godlike and undying intellect, There are distinctions that will live in heaven When time is a forgotten circumstance ! The clevated brow of kings will lose The impre-s of regalia, and the sinva Will near his immortality at free, Beade the civetal waters; but the depti Of glory to the autibutes of God, Will measure the carnelties of mind a And as the angels differ, will the ken Of gifted spirits glorify him more "Tis lifes probation task. The soul of man Createth its own destiny of power ; And, as the trial is intenser, here His being bath a nobler strength in heaven !"

The man or weman who objects to a minister breause he preaches too plain! gives the most positive evidence of dee seated sin which needs the preaching just such a man no they object to; saare like the man whose whole moral fran is diseased, and yet because he can ke [about in the world, still participating in i dissipation, dreads the powerful remedit which his physician give him, and who l he condinually assures him are absolut to essential to produce his restoration to heal; If men, professing to have a deep interest n the affairs of a Church, and to be and tous for its welfare, intend to make men chandile of religion, and solvet their preaor tolonic series of a market, as the would cay goods in heir trade,-thing it

CROCKETT'S DEATH - Col. Crockett surrounded and closely pursued by a numher of the enemy, retreated in a church, and stationed bimself in a niche in the corner, felling them as they approached. When some eight or ten of them were laid before him, a feeling of awe - seemed to seize hold of the assailants. One of them who could speak a little | broken big. llsh, probably preferring the single honor of capturing so noble a specimen of American valor to present to his "dear master," said to Creckett, "Surrender, senor."-A flash of the most sovereign courage, darted from his flary eye, and as it pierced that of the enemy his seemed to be tran-s fixed. In a voice of thunder he answered, "Surrender, no, I am an American !" and as he spoke he sent a ball through the paralyzed foe. Ho appeared for a moment like a wounded tiger, strengthened and buoyed by every additional wound, now hawing them down with his well tried sword, next dealing death with his firearms. His person was literally drenched with blood; his strength must soon yield to its loses. Yet such physical power wrought to the highest degree of excitement can perform incredible prodigies .-This was the concentration of the energies of a powerful man, aroused, animated and guided by one of the nublest attributes of man-love of liberty. He know for what his life was about to be sacrificed, that devastation and batchery would follow in the jootsteps of his heartless foes, that he would he secrificed to ratiale the desires of the conqueror, and feeling the holy inspiration of a patriot, he fought manfully till the loss of blood and the approach of death stopped hls upraised arm. His rifle was broken to picers, his pistols fell to the floor, and nothing but his faithful sword remained. In the agon v or death, with a terrible group he brought his last weapon on the head of the nearest assaliant, and fell victoriously across his body in the arms of death. In this corner of the church there were tweaty-six dead Menicans, and no other American having lought or tailen at that point, it is considered beyond all reasonable doubt that all of them fell by the hand of Tennesse's tavorite son-

AN UNFORTUNATE ROOSTER -There are objections to Shanghals , no doubt, but we had never thought of this :-- Mr. S-----an old resident of Stillwater, on the upper Hudson, introduced among his family of hous, a few Shanghais, including a rooster of formidable dimensions, who had "run to lega" a good deal. His grow was peculiar, and easily to be distinguished from the corpse of his wifethat of the other cocks. One morning he had waited to here the repetition of the usnal mammanas - a les a hair anno mar a trada maire it not again. The pre-eminent chanticleer was still. Mr. S----, went out to see what had caused the silence. He found the rooster lying on his back with both legs out of joint. After an examination, he set both legs; the cock walked off, and gave vent to a lusty crow. In the very act he drouged as if had been shot. He had crowed his logs out of joint again !-He was kept three or four days, and then killed. "It was too much trouble," said , "to set bim up every time he crowed."

ANACOOTE OF MARRIED LIFE.-A gentleman who had carefully trained up his servant the way he should go, so that when his wife was present he might not depart from it, cent him with a box ticket for the theatre to the house of a young lady,... The servant returned when the gentleman and his wife were at dinner. He had of course been told, in giving the answers to certain kinds of measages, to substitue the masculine for the feminine pronoun in speaking of the lady. "Did you see him?" said the gentleman, giving him the one,-"Yes, sir," replied the servant; "he said he'd go with a great deal of pleasure, and that he'd wait for you, sir.-- What was he doing 7' said the wife, carelessly. "Putting on his bonnet, ma'am," said the idiot.

The criminal statistics of California show a horrible state of society. In a nine menths of the present year there were 489 marders, 6 axecutions by the sheriff and 46 by the mab, a total of 541 violent deaths in three-fourths of a year, in a population of 300,000-a yearly everage of over two in every thousand.

Spunky .-- A western editor gives a cotemporary the following rather strong hint: "The editor of the Social Visitor speaks of us us a reformed dentist, and volunteers a little advice, suggesting that the unfortunate O'Toole upon we let polities alone end stick to our profession. We beg to inform the gentleman that we pull teeth at the usual rates, and the noses impertment meddlers for 'Cousin George, what is the surest preventative of chapped lips ?" "Such a scowl as you wore the morning after the last ball; wear that and the chaps will never come near your lips.11

The reporting hash of the affile of the ial Louis Panalope is contraduced; the deed, are they week-minded and sinful. I is recovering.

LATER FROM CALLIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEADS, Drc. 26 The steamship Daniel Webster sprived here yesterday, from San Juan Nicaragua, bringing San Francisco dates to the 5th inst.

The steamship "Star of the West" left Sin Jdan on the 20th for New York with a fair complement of passengers and about half a million of dollars in treasure.

The news from California present no feature of importance. The rainy season had fairly set in.

At San Francisco and several of the interior towns the full of Sebastopol bas been celebrated with banquest and other demonstrations.

The Indians continued to be very troublesome in Oregon and elsewhere.

The San Francisco markets were generally quite, and provisions had a dult and decliniae tendency.

Affairs in Niceragua were in an appar ontly settled state. . .

The Walker party received reinforcements to the extent of 190 men, by the steamer Sierra Nevada, which made the connection on the Pacific side.

The following ships from Atlantic ports had arrived at San Prancisco during the fortnight, viz: The Andrew Jackson, Flying Dragon Almena, and Spirit of the Times, from New York in West Wind and Grace Darling, from Boston ; Sirocco, and Themas. Watson, from Philadelphic.

18 5 18 18 1 1 1 -WILLIAM VINCENT WALLACE has arrived in Paris, ligs taken a quiet apariment in the Rue be la Grange Catellers, near his friend Berlioz, has got in his piano, and commenced hard upon a new opera which he intends to bring out in Berlin in the Spring

A MAN SAVED BY HIS WIFE'S CORPSE. Mr Walters, a passenger on the steamer Anthony Wayne, was taking from Chicago back to Philadelphia the remains of a fond and loving wife, to be buried among her relations and friends. During the trip the ill fated boat exploded all her boilers, killing nearly every one on board. Mr W. wes litted several hundred feet into the air, and fell into the water almost lifeless. The night was dark and dreary, and in his struggles to keep himself affont he necidentally struck against a box, to which he clurg all night long with desperation When daylight appeared he discovered tha the hox which had sayed his life contained Dengings of thereward Trive fiad not been previously aware of the fact, it would have been made evident to our nuderstanding by reading the following paragraph in a Scotch paper :- "What is a hus band ? Hear a lady's definition. 'He is,' said sha,'a snarling, crusty, aullen, testy, froward, cross, gruffy, moody, crabbed. snappish Mart, splenetic, surley, dry, brutish fierce, morose, waspish, currish, boorish, fretful, peevish, huffish, sulky, touchy, frac tions, rugged, blustering, captions, illnatured, rusty, churlish, growling, maundering, unish, stern, grating, frumpish humorsome, envious dog in a manger, who neither eats himself nor leta others eat.'

(7 The most characteristic insuance of carrying politoness to an extreme, come off not long since at a Hibernian bal. As related to us by one of the sous of Erin who keenly appreciated a good thing, is seems that one gay Lothario pro tenpore in crossing the room to request. Brilget's hand in the next reel, stumbled over the outstretched foot of Mr. Terrence O'Gndy. Misther O'Grady promptly arose, and in the politest manner imaginable, said ;

'I beg yer paidon, sir!' "No officuet-no officue, sir, at ill,

'I beg yer pardon, sir it was fatirely my fault,' was the response, accompanied by a graceful bead of the body and wave of the

"No sir, answered Misther O'Toole, Bet latirely in the wrong ; sir, I tell ye it vas altogether my fault !

"I till ye it was not, sir !" responded O'Grady, 'do ye mane to say I'd be tilling a 40. sir ?1

'Bad luck to yea, sir, d'ye mane to siy l' d be tilling a lie, sir, when I till ye ft wasn't yer faul?' responded O'Tone waxing wrath

'Bad lack to yer bad brading, ye ignoran bosthoon, d'yo think d'yo be gotting the batther o' me in manners ?' shouted O'Grady, as with a tip and a blow he laid Heor.

O'Toole rilled, and a rough and tumble ensued, which ended in the expulsion of both gentlemen from the bill room.

A Colored servant sweeping out a hotel coarder's room, found a sixpence, which he carried to its owner.

"You may keep it for your honesty," said be Shortly after he missed his gold pencil
